

PROPOSED DEVELOPMENT IN FORT LANGLEY

Vicini Homes is in the early planning and design stages for a proposed development in Fort Langley.

The Township of Langley has been working over the past several years toward a new museum and cultural centre in Fort Langley. This new cultural centre will be located at the corner of Mavis Avenue and Royal Street. Vicini has been selected to develop the adjacent property to the south, as well as the existing Centennial Museum site.

Due to COVID-19, we are unable to host in-person public information meetings at this time, for everyone's health and safety. As we progress through the planning stages for this development, we will update this website from time to time with more information.

If you have any questions about this proposed development, please feel free to reach out via email at fortlangley@vicinihomes.com or call 604-296-7999.
